

Two One-Day workshops in Manhattan, With R J Stewart, March 27/28th 2010

✘ An Inner Temple Traditions ®™ workshop ✘

Saturday 27th: The Prophecies of Merlin and the Mystery of 2012.

In 2007, R J Stewart appeared on a History Channel program, broadcast repeatedly around the world, discussing predictions and possibilities for the year 2012. He talked about the medieval bardic/druidic Prophecies of Merlin. This workshop reveals what was not discussed in the film, or was cut, and more. The event that we date as “2012” is described in a number of traditional calendars and prophecies from various cultures. The Prophecies of Merlin are a remarkable set of verses, written down from oral Welsh (Brythonic) tradition by Geoffrey of Monmouth, in the 12th century. They accurately foretell many of the developments of our modern world, culminating in a cosmic vision of stellar re-alignment as perceived from planet Earth. This is the 12,000 year alignment between Earth, Sun, and the Galactic center. Not a wild theory or an obscure vision, but a sidereal fact. We will explore the implications for our own consciousness and sacramental work, along with the connections to bardic tradition, alchemy, sacred magic, and the Seven Directions. A set of visionary practices, meditations, and physical alignments that bring us into a greater consciousness and vibrant energetic relationship with the alignment of 2012 will be taught in this workshop. Sunday 28th: The Angels of the Mother in the Earth.

Ancient Gnostic verses tell of the angels of the Father in Heaven and the angels of the Mother in the Earth. What does this mean in our spiritual and magical traditions? How may we understand the angels in the Earth today and, as modern people...how may we relate to them? R J Stewart will share with us his insights into myth legend and folklore, all of which reveal an ancient and powerful spiritual tradition of how we may relate consciously to the living Earth. From Celtic faery tradition to the UnderWorld of Titans and Giants to the mysterious and oft- misrepresented legends of fallen angels, all describe a planetary consciousness and ways of relating to living spiritual beings. R J Stewart is a Scottish author and musician living in California. He is the author of 42 books and many musical recordings. See www.rjstewart.org.
